The 'SUMMIT' Learning & Content Management System

For organisations requiring the ability to develop a first class online learning strategy for the creation, deployment and management of online training material, then the SUMMIT Learning Management System is within reach.

Whether you wish to work totally independent or in partnership with other suppliers of training content, then employing an online learning solution that is proven, robust, scalable and easy to administer, is the wise choice. SUMMIT is both a web-based and mobile learning system that will provide any organisation with the foundation for a successful online training and development environment that will assist in maximising training opportunities within any business.

In fact, SUMMIT will provide your organisation with the ability to create rich and engaging online training materials, organise and publish them and then manage the entire process of delivering that training to your staff. All of this in a well engineered, unified interface that has been specifically designed for ease of use, allowing Administrators, Content Developers, Enrollment Managers and most importantly, Learners, to work collaboratively in the pursuit of excellent training outcomes.

SUMMIT can be hosted on your behalf or integrated into your existing Intranet. It has the ability to interface with your existing HR record systems, or can operate independently, allowing you to create staff positions and job role groupings based on your unique organisational structure. SUMMIT is a SCORM compliant application that is built using the Microsoft SQL data base, is totally designed and developed in Australia and is exclusively available to you from Enterprise Learning Solutions.

SUMMIT will provide your organisation with a powerful solution for managing both your online training content and the learners to whom your training is targeted.
